

Our People

Ed Hahn

Expertise:

- Administration of complex and smaller municipal police services
- Development and implementation of new police services
- Advice to municipal governments, police commissions and police chiefs
 - Operational policing
 - Police service evaluation
 - First Nations policing
 - Emergency planning
 - Emergency command advice
 - Implementing organizational change
 - Public policy development
 - Personnel administration

Profile:

- Over 35 years of service with the Edmonton Police Service, including 14 years of senior administrative responsibility and five years as Deputy Chief. Experience in virtually all areas of service.
- Eight-plus years of provincial government service as Executive Director of Law Enforcement, advising the Solicitor General, Municipal Councils, Police Commissions and Chiefs of Police on policing issues
- Represented Alberta in negotiations with the Solicitor General of Canada for the services of the RCMP as the provincial police
- Administered the RCMP policing contract for Alberta
- Developed a provincial policing plan – for Alberta to assume its own policing
- Guided the development of First Nation policing in Alberta and oversaw the development of First Nation police services
- Served as advisor to the Law Reform Commission – Canada
- Served on the Law Amendments Committee and the Operational Research Committee of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police
- Served on the Board of Directors, Canadian Police College
- Served on the advisory committee, Grant MacEwan Community College – Policing and Security Program

Education:

- Certificates in Management Development, Personnel Administration, Senior Executive Development for Government (U of A), Many courses in management by the American Management Association.
- Executive Development – Canadian Police College